From the President

Fellow Members of the Nebraska Section of ASCE:

I have bad news and I have good news. The bad news – summer is almost over. Soon, we will be hanging up the flip-flops, dusting off our jackets, and walking to work in 3 feet of snow – uphill both ways!

The good news – ASCE is ready to kick off our 2017-2018 year! That means new Conferences, Technical Meetings, and Younger Member events. Whether you are a student member, a younger member, a life member, or somewhere in between, we have something for you.

Also, 2017 is the Centennial Anniversary of the Nebraska Section and we are planning to continue to celebrate this milestone for the rest of the year. Upcoming events will continue to be announced through email and on our website, www.neasce.org. Please visit our website often for new information.

Our first event is our structural group meeting and dinner, to be held at Granite City in Omaha on September 14, starting at 5:30. Registration for this event is currently open. Please visit our website to learn more and sign up.

The next day we are co-hosting the 37th Annual Structural Conference at the Scott Conference Center. This is a great day-long event where you can rake in a bunch of Professional Development Hours. Sign up at the Structural Engineers Association of Nebraska’s website: www.seaon.org.

Despite my personal feelings about the thermometer inching downward, I am excited for the upcoming year in ASCE and I hope you are too. As always, feel free to reach out to me at mhubel@schemmer.com or at 402-431-6370.

Sincerely,

Matt Hubel, President, ASCE Nebraska Section
